Editor - MAP Academy

The Museum of Art & Photography (MAP) is looking for an experienced editor to join its team of researchers as part of a major new online research project on Indian Art.

Contract: 6 month (project basis with potential to extend thereafter)

Location: Remote/working from home

Remuneration: 30,000-35,000 INR per month, based on previous experience

Application Deadline: 3 January, 2021. Apply here.

Role Commencement: 1 February, 2021

About the Museum of Art & Photography

The Museum of Art & Photography is south India's first major private art museum. Situated in Bangalore, MAP's mission is to take art and culture to the heart of the community, making it accessible to diverse audiences, and to create a museum-going culture that encourages people to experience art and heritage in new ways.

MAP is the custodian to a growing collection of over 20,000 art works, predominantly from the Indian subcontinent and dating from the 12th century to the present. Its 40,000 sq. ft. flagship site will include five galleries, an auditorium, an art and research library, education centre, a multimedia centre and a specialised research and conservation facility.

Education in art and culture is one of MAP's key focus areas. To know more about the museum, please visit www.map-india.org.

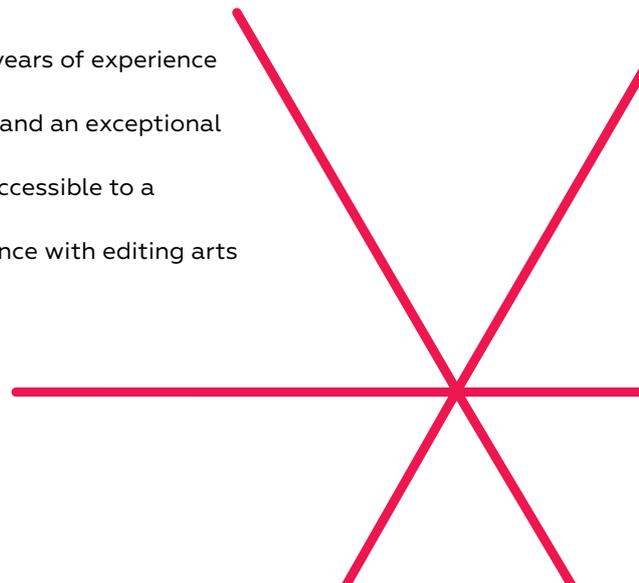

Interested applicants must share MAP's vision of encouraging and fostering new academic research and improving access to and understanding of the visual arts in India, with a key focus on inclusively building new audiences.

Role Overview

The editor will be part of a team responsible for ensuring that all content written by the researchers adheres to the museum's Style Guide and meets its high standards for clarity and concision. They will be working directly with the researchers to make sure this content is both informative and accessible, and will constantly need to be thinking of ways in which our editorial voice and approach can be strengthened for a general audience.

Required competencies

- Have a Master's degree in the humanities or have more than two years of experience as an editor at a news or media organisation.
- Have an excellent command over written (compositional) English and an exceptional eye for detail, with previous editorial and copywriting experience.
- Have confidence editing scholarly language and making it more accessible to a general audience.
- Have an interest in and knowledge of art and culture, and experience with editing arts and culture-related writing.

- Have the ability to make informed editorial calls without excessive supervision and be accountable for their decisions
- Able to set and track measurable goals and deliver on assigned deadlines.
- Be comfortable working on Google Docs and familiar with remote working technology.
- Be proficient in Microsoft Word and Excel and have a working familiarity with the Chicago Manual of Style.
- Applicants must be proactive, driven, able to adhere to deadlines and work seamlessly across levels and teams.

Equality & Diversity

MAP is an equal opportunities employer. It opposes all forms of discrimination and believes that all people, regardless of their identity or membership of any group deserve to be treated equally, consistently and fairly. It aims for recruiting processes to be transparent and open, giving everyone an opportunity to apply and for their application to be reviewed by the hiring team. MAP welcomes creativity, excellence and different perspectives that individuals of all backgrounds and abilities bring to our work.

Application and nomination process

Please note that incomplete or incorrectly formatted applications will not be considered. Shortlisted candidates will receive confirmation via email by the 15 January, 2021 following which they will then be presented with a writing task and invited for interviews. The role will then commence on the 1 February, 2021.
